

Jobcentre Plus Services for Employers

Key messages for employers from Jobcentre Plus:

It pays to work with us

Why pay for advertising when you can place your vacancy on the UK's biggest job site for free?

Why pay for staff training when you could be entitled to free in-work training for your new recruit?

Why battle through redundancies alone, when our team will help you through it at no cost?

We'll do all this, and more, for you. And we'll do it all for free.

Helping you recruit

We can help write your job ads and find the right candidates.

Free job advertising - Advertise on the UK's biggest job site for free.

Free employee work trials - Why take a risk on a new recruit when you could try each other out for free?

Help writing your job ads and finding the right candidates - We can make sure your job ads attract the best candidates and help you identify the right person for the job.

Helping you with training

We can arrange pre-employment training, on-the-job training and even training for your existing workforce.

Pre-employment training - We're helping young people and the unemployed get the skills employers want so they're ready to work.

On-the-job training - Receive free training for your new recruit.

Modern Apprenticeships - We can put you in touch with Skills Development Scotland www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk to help you recruit apprentices.

Helping you manage redundancies

If you need to make people redundant we can support them and help them back into work faster.

Support with redundancies - We have a dedicated Rapid Response team who will support you and your employees through redundancies, and help the people you have to let go.

Redundancy advice - Practical advice for businesses losing staff including helping you understand the practical and legal implications of redundancy.

Further information is available on the PACE website.